

Town hall meeting to study growth scenarios

By News Staff

Sunday, July 6, 2008

The Stanislaus Council of Governments (StanCOG) will host a town hall meeting in Newman Thursday, July 10, as part of the San Joaquin Valley Blueprint project, a regional effort to help San Joaquin Valley residents develop a vision for accommodating growth in coming years.

The meeting will be held from 7-9 p.m. at the L.J. Newman Memorial Building.

Participants will take part in exercises and discussions that look at potential development patterns and rate StanCOG's scenarios for future growth.

Refreshments will be served.

The meeting is one of a series which follow town hall gatherings last year, where Stanislaus County residents discussed what they liked about their communities and what they wanted their communities to offer their children and grandchildren.